

GENESIS

Historians tell us Moses wrote the book of Genesis on Mount Sinai while the Israelites were making a golden calf in the desert below. A witness speaking of YahShua accused him of “changing the customs Moses handed down to us”. The author of Acts refers to circumcision as “the custom taught by Moses”. This passage alludes to Moses as author of the first five books of the Old Testament.

Moses wrote that which Yah dictated to him on the mountain and recorded it for us to read. So, the story of creation virtually came from the lips of The Almighty Creator.

We find recorded in the book of Genesis not one creation, but two! The account of creation in chapter one is not the same as the one found in chapter two. If there is only one creation in Genesis then Yah must have had a slip in memory or became confused to tell it to Moses twice, and each time change the events.

The other alternative is that there were indeed two distinct creations and each was very significant in Yah's mind for Him to have Moses write the events of both creations.

In Chapter One we read, “In the beginning Yah created the heavens and the earth”, the physical world and its creatures. (Gen. 1:1), Then in Chapter Two it says, “These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord Yah made the earth and heavens.” In other words at the time He was making the heavens and the earth. Nothing is mentioned in the second chapter of it being the beginning of anything. So, we see from this that there was a chapter two creation interposed within the chapter one creation. One generation and then another for He said, “generations” (plural).

Let's take a look at the sequence of events of both creations and compare them.

On day one of chapter one Yah created day and night. On day two of chapter one He made the sky. On day three of chapter one He created dry land and vegetation. Now enters the interlude, the story of chapter two. Yah formed Adam, and then made vegetation as food for him. Chapter two goes on to say “before” shrubs and plant life appeared upon the earth, but “after” the dry land, water and rivers were created (the third day of chapter one Gen.1:9) Yah formed the Adam man. This was not the male and female creation of the sixth day of chapter one.

Now let's compare the two creations.

Days	Chapter One	Chapter Two
	Gen. 1:1-31	Gen. 2: 4-22
Day One	Day/Night (5)
Day Two	Sky (8)

Day Three (1)	Land/Vegetation (10-12)
Day Three (2)		Adam (7) Vegetation (9)
Day Four	Sun/Moon/Stars (14/18)
Day Five	Fish/Fowl (21)
Day Six (1)	Creatures/Male/Female (24-26)
Day Six (2)		Creatures (19)/Eve (22)
Day Seven	Sabbath of Rest

Yah called the first man Adam, and in the sixth day creation of chapter one He called that creation man. We know the word man is generic and speaks of a type of creature, mankind, both male and female. In the Literal Bible written in the Hebrew language it actually uses the word “mankind”. Adam was the first man and formed, and that on the third day of chapter one. Then later in chapter one, sixth day, Yah created the male and females as companions for Adam and made them like him.

A definition for man from the Strong’s Concordance is as follows; from 119-120; ruddy i.e. a human being (an individual or the species, mankind, etc.): --X another, + hypocrite, + common sort, X low, man (mean, of low degree), person.

Adam:

Adam was not created, he was formed. Yah took great care to describe every detail of the making of the second chapter man and He gave him a name. Adam was a separate and special creation who was formed from existing materials and was made a living being by the breath (life) of Yah. (NIV)

In Chapter One the dry land appeared on the third day of creation, trees and vegetation were brought into being. Sometime “after” the dry land appeared, but “before” vegetation grew in the first chapter creation, Yah interposed the second chapter “Adam” creation.

The Lord made a paradise garden for Adam and put him in it. The Garden of Eden was a literal place on the earth. Moses in his telling of the creation gave us a description of where it was located and the rivers that flowed through it. There was kingdoms built up around it at the time Moses was writing Genesis and he must have had knowledge of the Garden. We read, “And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads. The name of the first is Pison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold. And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia. And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates. And the Lord Yah took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden to dress it and to keep it.”

Spiritually speaking, this is a place in Yah that belongs only to the sons of Yah. It is to be his eternal abode, a place of immortality and fellowship with His creator Father where we can walk with Him as a son does with his Father.

We read in chapter two that Yah made vegetation grow after Adam was created as food for the man. Adam reveled in all the bounty Yah created for his pleasure. Every kind of tree bearing fruit that is good to eat and every fruit and vegetable of the ground was planted to sustain him.

Many teach that Adam was a spirit being or what is referred to as triune, spirit, soul and body. This is just not the case. Adam had the spirit of life or the inner life of a man. He was formed a soul, living being with the breath of life in him. He had a body to contain that life, but there was no spiritual life in him.

It took the coming of YahShua, the second Adam or the new creation man to bring into existence the triune man. “And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit, or a living spirit being.” Thus added to man is a third part, that of a spirit. The spirit is eternal and the true life in us, a complete man inside of our natural man as a child in the womb is a complete person inside of a woman.

Only by being born of the Spirit does the Adam man become spirit, soul and body. This is why YahShua said, “You must be born again”. And Paul explains it further. “Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, (Adam) but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual. (YahShua) The first man is of the earth, earthy (Adam): the second man (YahShua) is the Lord from heaven.”

And again YahShua emphasizes the difference between the two creations by saying, “Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born of water (Natural birth that puts you into mankind or Adam) and of the Spirit, (Spiritual birth that makes you a new creation man) he cannot enter into the kingdom of Yah. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again.”

Yah made Adam because He desired companionship, for He was a lone entity. As Yah surveyed the man, Adam, He had given His life force to, He saw the same loneliness in him as Yah felt in His own heart. Adam needed companionship too, so Yah sought a helpmate for him by making the beast of the field on sixth day of creation in chapter one. Adam named each species and it was good, but Adam still remained lonely. So, Yah said to Adam, “Let us make man in our image and after our likeness”.

Notice He did not say let us make more of us, but let us make them after our likeness. If something is like something that does not make it the thing itself, but it is like it. A good example would be a reflection in a mirror, that is a 'likeness' not the real thing. Thus, Yah made the male and female race of chapter one. Adam gave them a name as he did all the other creatures. He named them “Serpent”. That’s right, it is the old serpent, the devil.

Now here is a revealed truth, YahShua told the religious leaders of His day, “You are of your father the devil”, not Abraham’s seed at all. What a slam! If they had of been of Abraham then they would have believed YahShua, for they would have had the faith of their father.

Male and Female:

The Bible calls the male and female creation a beast of the field. This is important, for in Revelation the beast nature appears again; one, (the male) as a denomination (man created system) or governing power, and the other (female) as a religious power, known as the “false prophet”.

I want you to note something significant about the sixth day of Genesis chapter one. The males and females were created along with the beast of the field on the same day. “Male and female created He them”. By using the word male and female Yah is saying that the couple makes up one creation. The word “them” speaks of more than one for he had already said male and female. So, there were several couples created on the sixth day just as with all the other creatures.

Yah ranks this male and female creation the same as the beasts that lives by basic instinct and mental self-awareness. Yah gave them no name and no special care, as He did in Adam's creation. Yah's care for them was the same as that of the beasts in their creation. Yah did not breathe on them nor did His hands touch them as with Adam. The only special thing about them was they were made to look like Adam who had all the physical attributes of the invisible Yah, the visible expression of the invisible Yah. This male and female creation was granted dominion over all of the other living things.

Soul:

Both creations had life, translated soul throughout the Bible. The soul is the reasoning capacity of the being based on its nature and interest. The male and female creation man was a basic creature, but in the Adamic creation Yah imparted His own breath, awareness of life, giving Adam the ability to relate to things outside his own interest.

Spiritually speaking, the soul is the seed, used in respect as the seed of a woman, of a living being. It is there that Yah injects part of His own Being, life force, and the thing created is born a spirit being. This is called spiritual birth and in the baby stage we desire the sincere milk of the Word. But, we must go on to grow up into the head, the anointing, not laying again the foundation of repentance, and of faith in Yah, instruction in baptisms, the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment. Mature spiritual man is no longer satisfied with the “milk of the word”, but desires strong meat. In the same way in our physical existence we are in the womb of eternity and we groan to be birthed.

Eve:

I am sure the serpent people were good companions and pleased Adam very much, but Yah saw the longing of Adam's heart was not satisfied in them for they could not relate to his need, his inner man where he lived. This problem of finding a compatible helpmate for Adam could be solved only if he had someone who was of his own kind, his counterpart. Yah did this by taking part of Adam himself and making another Adam and fashioning her to fit his needs. Thus Eve was made and her desire was to please someone other than herself just like Adam.

YahShua:

Let me give you a bit of insight into our Heavenly Father. Yah's heart was not completely satisfied in Adam, just as Adam's was not satisfied in the male and female creation. Yah wanted someone of His own kind who could fulfill His inner longings, someone who could relate to Him in His realm. Adam was human and carnal, not spiritual and could not relate to Yah's innermost longings.

It was the same problem as Adam had and the same solution was found in the birth of YahShua. Yah injected part of Himself into the human race once again and made a New Creation Man, a spiritual man who could understand Yah's own heart. YahShua was spoken of as the second Adam because this was the second time Yah imparted some of Himself into creation. The first time it was His life force. The second time it was His Spirit. YahShua was a separate and distinct creation, a Yah man. Yah did not stop there, however, He is bringing many sons to Glory. The man, YahShua, made of Yah by divine birth could now give divine birth to man. Yah virtually wrapped Himself in human flesh and came to our realm so that He could by death of the flesh bring us into His own realm. Remember it said, “These are the generations, plural, of the heavens, YahShua, and earth, Adam”.

So, now we see three creations, Adam, the male and female creation and the New Creation Man. Notice the progression from a living being, Adam, to a life giving spirit, YahShua. Yah's desire is to have fellowship with us in His realm of existence. Let's not disappoint Him and make the blood YahShua that was shed of none effect.

Religious/Spiritual:

“For who among men knows the thoughts of a man except the man's (human) spirit (conscious awareness) within him? In the same way no one knows the thoughts of Yah except the Spirit of Yah. We have not received the spirit of the world, (religious spirit), but the Spirit who is from Yah, that we may understand what Yah has freely given us. This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom, (religious teaching, churches or ministers of a man orientated gospel), but in words taught us by the Spirit, spiritual truths in spiritual words.”

There is a vast difference between earthly things and heavenly things. Religion has turned heavenly things into earthly things; earthly things into religious things and spiritual things just get left out. The carnal or natural mind understands only what is tangible and spoken of as things that can be acknowledged by the five senses: see, touch, taste, smell and hearing. Spiritual things are intangible and known only by the spirit being of divine birth that dwells inside a man.

When Yah came to earth in human flesh He spoke in parables to a carnally minded people. A parable is a story with a hidden meaning that goes beyond the story itself. The parables are like object lessons, but most of the time people get so caught up in the objects or stories that they miss the lessons. The lessons are hidden manna for those not satisfied with the natural, but for those with a spiritual hunger. You must follow the Spirit and not man to be able to understand spiritual things.

If the Bible says “tree”, spiritually it is speaking of a power with many branches of influence. A table spread, a Marriage Supper, is not natural food and drink for the natural man. Spiritually it is the Word of Yah, that is, revelation knowledge and spiritual blessings spread before us by the Holy Spirit and it is manna indeed, and drink indeed. Where the Bible speaks of Gold, it is spiritually speaking of Yahlikeness and holy attitudes. Garments are righteousness. Self-righteousness is filthy rags or nakedness. To a spiritual man treasures or wealth mean holiness, Yahlikeness and spiritual understanding. It means an inheritance in the presence of our Heavenly Father and a place in His kingdom in the age that is fast dawning. Since that age to come has been 'tasted' by the apostles and those who live in the baptism of the Holy Spirit, the taste of good things to come, how much more will be ours in the “full feast” in the Father's timing!

YahShua challenges us to lay up treasures in Heaven. Earthly things are perishable and changeable for Yah does not intend for them to last. They are to be used and pass away, as temporal blessings. Spiritual things are far more real than earthly things for they are eternal. Get real, man!

The Fall:

Adam and Eve were in “the garden” for a long time before the fall. Time meant nothing to them, for they had everlasting life. This state of being was where fellowship with Yah took place. Bible teachers tell us Adam and Eve was created only about six thousand years ago. The Bible itself tells us that the fall took place six thousand years ago, not so the Creation. The “garden of Yah” was still a physical country at the time of the Asserians, even though it was emptied of its inhabitants. Ezekiel shows us an entirely different picture in his prophecies. Apparently Ezekiel was familiar with the place of the Garden of Eden, and probably knew its location. While Adam and Eve dwelt in “the garden” in fellowship with Yah, the serpent people multiplied. They lived and died and filling the earth with their offspring.

There were no restrictions placed upon Adam except not to eat of the tree, the one called the Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil in the middle of the Garden where innocence is left behind. Time came into being after the fall, for there was a punishment laid upon them and upon all of mankind through them. There would be a period of time they would have to be cut off from the Garden and immortality.

There is an inherent curiosity to explore the unknown in man that makes him vulnerable unless he is wise enough to channel it in a positive direction. Without this Yah given factor there would never be a scientific discovery or a progression of inventions to aid man on his journey back to Eden.

It is inevitable that Eve's curiosity would bring her near to the tree. Perhaps she thought there was no harm in 'just looking at it' since one of the things she had noticed was that the tree was pleasant to the eyes. As Eve watched, the serpent, sixth day man, became aware of her. He, the serpent, was the wisest and most beautiful of the beasts of the field Yah had created. He was exactly like Adam and Eve in a physical sense. She studied what was occurring and this thing they did for procreation the serpents seemed to take such pleasure in doing was as much a part of them as breathing. Why could they eat of the tree and not be harmed? The serpent was handsome to look upon and his voice was soothingly pleasant when he spoke to Eve, and what he said made sense. She would know good and evil like Yah, and that would make her more like Him. Would that not please Him?

How many of you understand that deep within us is a desire to know Yah and to please him? It is a drawing force that causes us to seek after Him and to understand things as He does? Sad to say many do not know what or who it is they are seeking and, therefore, search in the wrong places and find new false gods to fill the void. Their satisfaction is short lived. So, they continue their search, ever looking, but never coming to the knowledge of Yah.

Of all the created beasts, this one had a mouth that could speak words Eve understood perfectly. There is only one creation that I know of that speaks understandable words and that is man. The serpent was not a snake animal as we have been told, but is depicted as one because of its nature. The Bible says he was subtle and very intelligent and crafty, skilled in getting what he wanted, and what he wanted was to be as Eve and raise himself up into her higher order.

When Yah created the male and female serpents, He said to them, “Be fruitful and multiply and fill the earth”. This was in order to perpetuate the species, for the serpent was not made eternal, as were Adam and Eve. He, like the other beasts, needed to reproduce after their kind, but nowhere did Yah tell Adam and Eve to reproduce. They were eternal beings like Yah and did not need to reproduce to keep life going on, at least not until after the fall.

The Tree:

Now surely you understand that this tree was not a literal fruit tree, but symbolic of something. There were natural fruit trees everywhere to be used for food. This tree was the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. As long as evil remains in the knowledge realm it is harmless, but once the fruit of that knowledge is eaten or partaken inwardly it becomes good or sin. Yah has the knowledge of evil as well as good, but by virtue of His nature and His own holiness it is impossible for Him to do evil. The serpent used the enticing logic on Eve that eating or partaking of the forbidden would make her as wise and in the likeness of Yah in the sense of being more like Him.

The Bible teaches that we are a garden, the planting of the Lord. The tree that produces fruit in the midst of mankind is the womb of a woman and genitals of a man, also known as the family tree.

Adam and Eve were naked and not ashamed. They were innocent until Eve gave Adam the fruit and he partook or ate of it. Now, they were both no longer innocent, but had taken it upon themselves to order their own paths and affairs, which separated them from, and cut off the fellowship with Yah. Suddenly, they knew they had lost something very precious.

Did it take Yah by surprise that they had indulged in the forbidden? No, Yah knew very well that sooner or later Adam would partake of the tree. He had the plan of salvation already in mind before He uttered the first words of creation, even before the foundation of the world. This act of disobedience only served to delay his plan until the penalty was fully paid.

The very best that man or Adam had to offer, even in the original innocent state before the fall, was soulish and fleshly, a lower state of life. Adam was formed a living soul, not a spiritual being, as some presume. Yah needed a woman to place Himself into to produce after His kind. That woman is the flesh, or the Adam race. I'm speaking spiritually here. This is the plan of salvation laid before us. So, the fall did not hinder the plan of Yah. We know that death reigned from Adam to Moses. Then Yah sent His law through Moses. Under Moses' law mankind could strive to live a natural life of goodness by self-effort and good works. No man could keep all the law, since in his fallen nature, all mankind were lawbreakers. Then, in the fullness of time, Yah sent His Son, the spiritual Man, "born of a woman, born under law, to die as the sacrifice for the sins of the world, to redeem those under law, that we might receive the full rights of sons." Yah needed a natural woman to birth Himself as YahShua into the world. That natural woman was Mary. She showed herself to be a true seed of Abraham because she believed the Angel and it was accounted to her for righteousness. Spiritually, she signifies the Living Church or "called out one" of Messiyah now birthing sons of Yah, who will soon be manifest to the world.

The Punishment:

Let's pay close attention to the punishment that Yah measured out for all parties involved in the "Fall". That punishment will identify the specific act or forbidden fruit that brought the fall of Adam and Eve, along with the curses inherited by all humanity.

To the serpent man Yah said he would follow and be contorted by the appetite of the flesh all his life. His desires would be master over him and his posterity would follow after him indulging in the appetite of the flesh, eating dirt, (created thing of the earth). This is his heritage to the seed of the serpent. Yah told the serpent, "I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your offspring and hers; he (YahShua and the sons of Yah) will crush your head, and you will strike his heel." The DESCENDANTS of the serpent and the DESCENDANTS of Eve would be enemies. However, Eve's offspring would crush the serpent's head, his authority, but it would be a bruising task to the walk of Eve's offspring.

Eve said of the serpent, "The serpent beguiled me and I ate". The word beguile is "nasha" in the Strong's Concordance and means, "to lead astray, seduce". The serpent seduced Eve into taking control of her life and slyly directed her actions. His basic lie was "ye shall not surely die." Because she fell for his lie she was no longer free to follow her own desires, but they would now be toward her husband. She will now have pain in CHILDBEARING as her penalty for her giving in to the desire the serpent stirred in her.

In the Law Yah gave man to live by, it was "an eye for and eye, a tooth for a tooth." The punishment was the crime. Here He establishes the law.

The serpent eats dust and must crawl upon his belly because that is the center of human desire and his sin was fleshly desire. "For they that are such serve not our Lord YahShua Messiyah, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple."

If Eve's sin had not been in the womb then she would not have been punished there.

Adam, however, was not deceived. He deliberately partook or ate of the forbidden fruit. "But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed. Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death." He knew very well that what he was doing was not Yah's will even if it would make him wise like Yah. Because HE CHOSE to join Eve in partaking of the fruit of the tree, he was found guilty of high treason.

He was cast down to the earth realm. The heavens were shut to him and the earth would no longer give of her bounty. He would now have to toil for the "fruit" of the earth, that is what came out of it. In other words, all that would keep him alive was the fruit of the serpent's realm. In a real sense Yah turned His face from Him, for Yah cannot look upon sin. Adam and Eve were no longer innocent and from now on they would be accountable for their every action.

“How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning? For you said in your heart, I will ascend to Heaven, I will raise my throne above the stars of Yah; I will sit enthroned on the mount of assembly, on the utmost heights of the sacred mountain.

It was customary for Adam to walk with Yah in the cool of the day and they would talk together. It is likely Yah had told Adam of His plan for him and Adam could hardly wait to take his place in Heaven. He probably did not understand why Yah was waiting and had not set him in his place. The arrogance of innocence!

The “I wills” will get you every time unless you understand Yah's plan for man and allow His knowledge to direct your life. Adam knew about and had talked to Yah about taking his place in Yah's plan. He knew that someday Yah would bring him into Yah's own realm. But, he was still an infant and needed to grow in responsibility.

“In the day that you eat thereof you will surely die.” Adam did not understand about death, he was an eternal being. This act of disobedience became Yah's training tool for the Adam race. The real sin was that Eve ate of the fruit with the serpent man and Adam did the same. The serpent man had told her that she would be as Yah, knowing good from evil, but instead they died. They were trying to move into something Yah had promised too soon. Yah's plan was spoiled and delayed at that time by human reasoning and ignorance.

Here entered Yah's the plan of salvation from the foundation of the world. The glory that had clothed Adam and Eve in the garden was gone. The Bible records that Yah made garments for them from skins to cover their nakedness. This was the first sacrifice ever offered to cover sins. Man had to have a covering until the coming of the perfect sacrifice, YahShua.

By partaking of the forbidden fruit in the midst of the garden they fell from innocent holiness. Eve had taken within herself the serpent's fruit. Adam followed in her sin and now they had become one with the serpent. In essence they became as the serpent people. They, too, would be in bondage to the physical with its, limitations, lusts, desires and emotions.

On top of all this Yah banished man from the garden wherein was the tree of life. The man with his serpentine nature was cast from the garden along with Adam for they had become one. Adam and Eve's fellowship with Yah was broken and their walk severed by going their own way.

Now here is a profound truth, Yah said to Adam. “The man has become like one of us.” To cast them from the garden was not punishment, but love. If they were not cut off from the tree of life they would live forever in the sin nature they took upon themselves. Time entered for a little while as punishment and training before eternity would be restored to fallen man. Being cut off from the tree of life meant they would, like the beasts, need to reproduce in order to perpetuate a remnant for the Son of Yah to be produced through and until they could enter back into the Garden of life.

A cherubim or angel was placed at the gate to keep it, as in to preserve the way of the tree of life. This was not as much to keep man out as to keep the way for their return. Come on let's get spiritual here. In each generation the hope of eternity has been preserved through heavenly beings that choose Yah's way above mans.

The Children:

The Bible records that after Cain killed Abel he moved to Nod, east of Eden, knew his wife and had children and then it gives his bloodline descendants. The question of Cain's wife is now answerable. She was of the serpent stock, not a daughter of Adam as some have ventured. In the fifth chapter of Genesis it says only after Eve gave birth to Seth did Adam have sons and daughters. Seth was the firstborn of Adam. He was born to Adam after Abel's death as Eve testified.

Cain's name in Hebrew means, "brought forth" or "Acquired" and the name Abel means "temporary or meaningless". Some say that is because his life was cut off as a youth, however, the Bible gives his name well before the murder story.

Now we know the bloodline flows through the males. That is why we find no women named in the birth chronicles. The bloodline is passed from father to son and the firstborn is the one mentioned, except on rare occasions where Yah intervened in the circumstances. Jacob received the firstborn blessing instead of Esau and is mentioned instead of Esau. "Abraham begat Isaac; and Isaac begat "Jacob"; and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren." Notice that Esau was not named.

Why was Cain then not mentioned in Adam's bloodline? Was it because he committed murder? King David committed murder so he could have a man's wife and he is not excluded from the bloodline. How can anybody be excluded from a bloodline anyway? No matter how horrible they become they are still their father's sons.

What am I saying? Cain was not Adam's son; he was Eve's son from the man serpent, the fruit of her womb. It is said that Eve is the mother of all living, but nothing is said of Adam being the father of all living. I suspect that Abel was not Adam's son either for he is called the brother of Cain. Thus his name was Abel meaning "meaningless", signifying his standing with Adam.

The following is from the Literal Bible in the Hebrew language. Chapter 4:1. |0120|And the man |3045|experienced |0853| - |2332| Eve |0802| his wife. |2029| And she conceived |3205| and gave birth to |0853| - |7014| Cain, |0559| and she said, |7069| I have gotten |0376| a human being |0854| {with the help} of |3068| Yahweh! 2. |3254| And she continued |3205| giving birth to |0853| - |0251| his brother |0853| - |1893| Abel.

Seth is the first son in Adam's genealogy. It says he was the image and likeness of his father, Adam. I think he is the one recorded because he was the firstborn son of Adam. The Literal Bible in the Hebrew language bares this out plainly.

3.[2421| And lived |0120| Adam |7170| thirty |3967| and one hundred |8141| years |3205| and he fathered a son |1823| in his own likeness, |6754| according to his image, |7121| and he called |0853| - |8034| his name |8352| Seth.

In the beginning of chapter four we read, “And Adam knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the Lord. And she again bares his brother Abel.”

Notice the used the name “Adam” in the earlier discussed verse instead of “man”. Also, notice the semicolon after the statement, two different thought here. Keep this in mind.

The Rotherham Emphasized Bible in Gen. 4:1 used 'the man' rather than Adam. The New American Standard Bible, the Jerusalem Bible and the New English Version and the Young's Literal Translation used 'the man' rather than Adam as well.

I am going to take liberty here. These are the events as I see them: Notice the semicolon after the statement, Adam knew (had sex) with Eve his wife. This happened while Eve was pregnant with Cain, thus the semicolon. That was the way to merry someone back in the Old Testament and was the act of marriage.

Eve had become pregnant by the serpent man before being cast from the garden. After Adam had relations with her, his love for Yah made him feel ashamed for what he had done and he repented. After Eve bore Cain, Adam shunned her not wanting to offend Yah further, but she only felt the rejection and loneliness. So, she went and lived with her husband the serpent man, and again became pregnant with Abel.

Adam longed for Eve for she was made for him and realizing another sin was happening, he went and persuaded her to come back to him. Because of her great love for him and because they were essentially one, she went with him. I believe to restore her unto himself, and to satisfy what had been awakened in him; he slept with her again to bond their relationship. Then she bore Abel, Cain’s brother. Then after Abel's death, she bore Adam a son after his image and named him Seth. She never went to the serpent man again, she fully belonged to Adam, her true love.

Why do I think this was the way it happened? We see it as a type and shadow of Israel and Christianity. Israel belonged to Yah but went whoring after other gods, committing the sin of adultery. Yah was angry, destroyed Solomon’s Temple and Israel was taken to Babylon as slaves. Then Yah restored them back unto himself.

Israel became corrupt again, killed YahShua and Yah's wrath was poured out again on the natural Israel. This time the Romans destroyed the reconstructed Temple, scattered Israel to the four winds. The Ark of Covenant (Testament) was lost forever. However, because of YahShua and the New Covenant, Israel is changed now from a literal people to a spiritual people and the saga continues.

In Christianity we see the pure move of Yah after the twelve Apostles become mixed (married) with law, man's opinion and sin. Then in about 1519 Yah through Martin Luther began to restore His people back to Him and in 1906 He gave a fresh outpouring of His Spirit. The Church soon sold herself back under man's bondage with denominational organizations. Now, however, Yah has a people He has called out of that system of worship and they have gone out unto Him. This time they will remain faithful and reign with Him in the Kingdom Age for He is their true love.

In the New International Version Bible it is made clear. In chapter four starting in verse seventeen we find Cain's lineage recorded and in chapter five is the account of the Adamic line and verses two through five tell the story. Two distinct lineages, Cain and Seth's. Notice in chapter four nothing is said about Cain father, but gives his lineage while in chapter five Seth's lineage is given and his father is recorded as Adam.

Pre-flood Era:

You might say I am supposing a lot here, but let's see what happens next. When "Men", the serpent people, began to multiply and daughters were born unto them. The sons of Yah, Adam's descendants, saw the daughters of men and took all they desired. Cross breeding became prominent between the two species. Mixing their bloodline was not what Yah had in mind. He needed a pure seed of Eve to reproduce himself in the world. He foresaw that they would eat of the tree, which is discovering sex. He had made provision for that. Adam man rarely does what is expected of him because his fallen nature has taken on the beastly attributes of the creature rather than the characteristics of the creator.

The offspring of these marriages were powerful men of renown, heroes as far as man was concerned, but by Yah's standard they were corrupt. The King James Version of the Bible says, "there were giants in the earth in those days." Archeologists find the remains of these people in caves and anthropologists say they are our ancestors. They are partly right, for mankind, as we know him, is the descendant of mixed breeding between the Adam man and the serpent man.

It is my belief that the Adamic race were beings of great stature and strength called Nephilim. The Hebrew word means "fallen ones". These are also called the sons of Yah. "I have said, ye are gods; and all of you are children of the Most High. But ye shall die like men..."

Yes, angels, the fallen race of sons of Yah, did mate with man, as some believe. When the Sadducees tempted YahShua about whose wife would a woman be in heaven that had seven husbands. YahShua told them they do not understand Yah's ways or power. "In heaven" they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels. There is no need to reproduce for no one ever dies in heaven. It is a higher form of life. However, the angels that fell from their first estate were Adam's lineage as Jude spoke of and they interbred with the serpent.

Sex sins were running rampant prompting Yah to say, “My spirit will not always strive with man for he is mortal”, and “...that every inclination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil all the time”. So, Yah brought the flood, which drowned everyone except a remnant, including all of nature. If Yah said that then, what is he saying about us today?

Note: Sexual activity was not used in the beginning for self-gratification, but only to perpetuate man in the earth. That is why when in the Bible it says, “and, (...) knew his wife” it always follows with “and she bare him a (son or daughter).” As time went on the concept of sexual activity took on new meaning and was indulged in for many reasons and even in religious idol worship, but at the beginning it was not that way.

Now, something very special, which a couple shares to create intimacy and to bring new life, has become gross sin without concern as to with whom, how or when. The serpentine nature and beastly instinct of man has brought the sanctity of sexual activity to an all time low. The appetite of the flesh, the legacy of the serpent man, is still in control in his descendants. Choosing not to hold a Yahly conscience, they have been given over to reprobate minds to work that which is unnatural. This is the very reason Yah destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah. Will He do less to us?

Remember Yah said, “My Spirit will not always strive with man.” Yah will not always wrestle with man to see His will done.

YahShua said, “As it was in the days of Noah, so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man.” You had better set your house in order.

The Flood:

Serpent Man, because of their wickedness, so grieved the heart of Yah that He regretted having created him on the earth. Even the seed of Eve, the woman, was becoming corrupted and Yah was in danger of losing a seed to reproduce himself through. So much so that Yah sat into motion a destructive force such as never was, nor has not been since. The entire earth was covered with water. Not wanting to accept the Bible account, science calls this time the Ice Age. A universal flood could explain the evidence of the Ice Age. However, man is not willing to accept the fact that such a catastrophic event took place. To admit that, would mean they would have to recognize Yah, and it seems that the work of science is to prove there is no creator.

Yah, however, had a wonderful plan to satisfy His innermost desire and He was not about to let the wickedness of man foil it. Yah thought everything out before He uttered His first creative word. By His foreknowledge He knew everything that would transpire in the course of time, nothing takes Yah by surprise. Yah is the CREATOR.

Now Noah was a righteous man in his time for he walked in fellowship with Yah and found favor in His eyes. He was of Adam's bloodline and I believe one of the reasons he found favor with Yah was because he had not defiled himself with mixed marriage.

Forty days and forty nights the flood was upon the earth and for forty years Yah led the Israelites through the desert until all the old rebellious generation had died off. Forty is the number that signifies death. YahShua was tempted forty days and forty nights and the self-life ended there, seen by the types of temptations He faced. When He came out, He came out as a victorious man having conquered the serpent nature all around us and He was Yah's man.

Yah has a people doing their forties right now out here in the wilderness, outside the walled cities of denominations. The old man of earth is dying as the Spirit is leading them and learning to be spirit beings. Soon they will be manifested to the world.

So, with the flood ends the lineage of Cain, and the serpent man. However, through mixed breeding the serpent's nature was kept alive. I can only speculate, but I believe Noah's sons had taken wives from the sons of men. The Bible does not say the sons were blameless, it was said only of Noah, but for Noah's sake his sons were spared along with their wives. Herein do we see the love of Yah revealed!

What do you think would have happened if Noah had not prepared for the flood? If he had stood in unbelief like the others, would there even be a human race? What will happen if you do not hear the call of the Spirit in this day? Remember only eight souls were left after the flood and only a remnant will hear the end time call. Where will you stand?

“So, as the Holy Spirit says, today, if you will hear his voice, do not harden your heart... Rebellion against further revelations will separate you from what Yah is doing in our day.

Babylon:

The people who left the ark became a great nation called Babylon and dwelt in a plain near the mountain where the ark rested. You see a post flood people taking it upon themselves to build a tower to heaven. So why the tower? To escape the wrath of Yah when it comes again? Or was it simply an attempt to retake by their own power what they had lost in the fall? Something in man knows he was born for more than to die. They did not understand Yah's heavenly plan because they were carnal minded.

It is always Yah's way to call the spirit of a thing after its father or mother. The religious leaders of YahShua's time were told they were, “of their father the Devil”. John the Baptist came in the spirit of Elijah because his ministry challenged the religious leaders and he pointed out sin and preached repentance just as Elijah did in his day.

There is another Babylon in the Bible, the Harlot Religious System of the book of Revelation. So, the Spirit of Babylon now rests in the Religious Systems of today. Babylon today is building an escape (tower) to heaven and from the great tribulation that they teach is to come. These towers, teaching or ministries, may look right, smell right, even feel right, but they are not right. They are carnal religious ideas and little religious kingdoms, which men build unto themselves, either literal or in their own minds.

I would remind you of what YahShua said when he prayed for all believers. “My prayer is not that you take them out of the world but that you protect them from the evil one.”

And, Paul makes it clear. “He must remain in heaven until the time comes for Yah to restore everything, as he promised long ago by his holy prophets.”

The tower was called Babble. The word “babble” from which comes the word Babylon is derived means, “confusion” or too many voices. It was Yah Himself who confused their language. Why? To put an end to their work! They became divided, went separate ways and all their plans ended there. How many denominations do we have out there today? How many different languages do they speak? The dialect may be the same but the language differs. Theology has become so diverse, deceptive and full of confusion that it takes the voice of the Spirit for anyone to find the way. And where there is confusion there is every other evil work. A house divided cannot stand. What does the Word say? There is no division or carnal thinking in the true body of Messiyah.

The King of Babylon had a dream of a great image and Yah had his man on the scene. Daniel gave the King the interpretation of his image, but it has spiritual significance. Remember the Bible is a spiritual book. YahShua said, “The words that I speak are spirit and life”, and YahShua is “the Word of Yah” from the beginning.

In Daniel's time the King took the people of Yah captive. He controlled, dominated and brought them into bondage, demanding they worship the statue he set up like the image of his dream. Like the first, the modern Babylon Harlot Religious System is bringing souls and ministries unto denominational captivity as they go about setting up ministries and churches after their image and according to their likeness.

In seven hundred twenty two BC Sargon 11, King of Babylon, laid siege on Jerusalem and destroyed the Temple, stripping it of it's gold. Likewise, religious Babylon has laid siege to Yah's people and stripped them of Yahlikeness and power, taking them into organizational captivity, making them slaves to the church system and many times a ministry. They receive it's mark, carnal thinking. Bound with fetters of religious ideology, they bow down to the image, both small and great, rich and poor and worship it.

We are reminded that everything that happened in the Old Testament is a type and shadow of spiritual things. What Babylon did in the natural, religious Babylon has done to the weakened souls and spirits of Yah's people.

“Awake from your, drunken, stupor and return to your, sober, sense and your right, spiritual, minds, and sin no more. For, some of you have not the knowledge of Yah.

You are utterly and willfully and disgracefully ignorant, and continue to be so, lacking the sense of Yah's purpose and all true knowledge of Him. I say this to your shame."

Yah has predicted doom and destruction for religious Babylon just as YahShua predicted the end of Judaism while He was on earth. She is likened to a great city. A city is not so much people as a system of authority. You can have masses of people but that does not make a city. She says, "I am rich; I have acquired wealth and do not need a thing".

It's sad when the people who call themselves by Yah's Name get so caught up in a system of worship until they no longer need Yah and are blinded to that fact. They do not say it in words, but they say it in deeds and their way of worship and life. They profess Christ and worship Jesus, the myth, and say they are giving Yah the glory, but they have no concept of who YahShua is or what Yah is doing. They know not that the glory has departed them.

Are you too busy to seek Yah for yourself? Do you have a religious leader to do it for you? Like Israel in the wilderness do you say, "You tell us what Yah says and we will do it". Do you run too and fro seeking Yah's Word from men? Have you become dependent on ministries, ministers and churches for your spiritual life and leave Yah out?

YahShua listened to the boast of the Religious System then and today and replied, "You do not realize that you are wretched, pitiful, poor, blind and naked". This is the true condition of the church world today. Man's fast paced life leaves them with little time to hear Yah for themselves, so they look to others who are in that business to do it for them.

Yes, I said business. Religion is a business these days just like it was in the days when YahShua drove out the moneychangers. Buying and selling in the church today is in the Name of Jesus and so wide spread that everyone who is anyone is doing it. They cover what they are doing by saying, "For a gift of just... we will send you..."

Again Yah is calling His sons out of the bonds of Egypt or slavery to man, and out of Babylon to build Jerusalem again. Not the literal city, but the one called the Church. "Come out of her my people, so that you will not share in her sins, so that you will not receive any of her plagues."

A new age is dawning and if you are awake you can see the first rays of light. The trumpet message is sounding and we are at the door of the Kingdom Age. Who will go in?

Back to Eden:

"The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are Yah's children." I want you to know we are not descendants of Adam and merely adopted by Yah. We, by spiritual birth, are the sons of Yah. Our Father is Yah. "Now if we are children, then we are heirs of Yah and co-heirs with Messiyah.

It is time for man to be allowed back into the Garden of Eden. The church age has closed and as the parable the bride, called out ones, has gone out to meet the bridegroom, Messiyah. The virgin is with child and travails to be delivered. The next great move of Yah is the manifestation of the sons of Yah.

What will the manifestation of the sons of Yah mean? The end of death and decay! The redemption of the body! Mortal clothed upon with immortality, corruptible putting on incorruptible! Stick around a few years and you will began to see a ministry come out of the wilderness that will have this teaching among others.

“I will make justice the measuring line and righteousness a plumb line.” At this time there will be judges in the earth once more to set things in order. Furthermore Yah says, “Your covenant with death will be annulled; your agreement with the grave will not stand.” The door to the Garden of Yah is open once again.

And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, “Now the dwelling of Yah is with man, and he will live with them. They will be his people and Yah himself will be with them and be their Heavenly Father. He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death or mourning or crying of pain, for the old order of things has passed away.” He who was seated on the throne said, “I am making everything new!” And again, “...Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true.”

The tree of life awaits those bold enough to enter back into the garden of immortality. Those with enough love of Yah still remaining to shun modern religion and get alone with their Father Yah will enter.

Eden awaits, let's enter in, it's our heritage, Yah's will and plan.
