

UNDERSTANDING

In the microscope man looks to find the DNA codes of our human kind All of the science man has at hand has brought no illumination of a man

Psychologists seek for answers too but can't predict what man will do The psychiatrists with their therapy bed can't unscramble what in man's head

The future though is looking bright all that's required is to do things right It takes a much higher power you see to make mankind what he ought to be

It really should not matter your race or what you look like in your face Take care of the planet Yah has provided and all stand together, instead of divided

Let Yah in your heart and you will find His coming brings to you peace of mind
We are all children of the planet earth and we must understand what life is worth

Nora R. Hobbs