

WONDERING

Ever wonder where the wind is going when you hear it in the tree tops blowing Do you ever contemplate where it has been or if this same wind will ever come again

Do you wonder where the little birds all hide when the storm is blowing on every side Every wonder how an earthbound thing can become so beautiful when on the wing

Wondering at the beauty of the stars at night do you feel the awesomeness of that sight Did you ever wonder just who you are or how you managed to get this far

Do you feel His Spirit moving deep within and wonder how He saved you from your sin Or how a mortal man made of fleshly earth can become a new being of heavenly worth

I wonder at the love Yah displayed in His Son and how that through grace the work is done Wondering, wondering, oh what more can I say I guess, I'll just keep on wondering every day
